IN SOCIETY

Mrs. Frank L. Stutson entertained the Monday Bridge club at a recherche small table luncheon yesterday.

The tables were exquisite in their appointments and artistic vases of scarlet carnations and ferns formed the centerpieces. The luncheon courses included many spring delicacies.

One of the most delightful social occasions of the season, and at the same time one of the most brilliant and successful affairs in the history of the local lodge, was the banquet given last night by the Fraternal Order of Eagles in compliment to their ladies.

The banquet hall and club rooms were brilliantly lighted, and elaborately decorated with flags and bunting.

At 9:30 a most elaborate and delicious menu was served to 85 couples by a committee of the lodge.

Mr. M. B. Shank, always equal to such occasions, presided as toastmaster. Judge A. C. Patton delivered an address of welcome to the guests, in which he said, "that although the ladies were not admitted to membership, their happiness and welfare were pertinent considerations, which are never overlooked by this order."

C. E. Baughn recited a beautiful poem, "The First Settler's Story," which was well received.

Mr. Billy Smith rendered a most delightful selection which was heartily encored.

At 11 o'clock, the hall was cleared and dancing was enjoyed until 1 o'clock in the morning.

Whelpley and Whelpley, Kneisley and Miller furnished the music.

Visitors Attend Confidence Lodge

Quite a number of visitors from adjoining lodges attended the regular session of Confidence lodge, K. of P., Monday night to witness the splendid work of the Third Degree staff of the lodge, which conferred the Knight rank upon two candidates.

The visitors expressed themselves as greatly pleased with the manner in which the rank was conferred. A number of new applications for membership have been received during the past few days, and many new members will be added to the order before the warm days arrive once more.

John D. Will Build New Barn

The Standard Oil company has broken ground for the erection of a new barn on the company's lot on Water street just south of the Ice plant.

The new building will be constructed of brick with tile or slate roof, and will be 32 feet square and two stories in height.

FARMER INJURED

Chas. Allen, of Paint Township, Nearly Meets Death When Horses Take Fright and Run Away, Hurling Him From Load of Fodder and Cutting His Face in Shocking Manner.

While hauling a load of fodder for his cattle Sunday, Chas. Allen, residing on the Vannorsdall farm on the Wood road in Paint township, nearly met death when his horses ran away with him and threw him to the ground, causing injuries from which he will not recover for some time.

Mr. Allen was driving a pair of spirited horses which have run away a number of times, and had loaded the fodder upon the sled and was in the act of picking up the reins after he had climbed upon the load, when the horses made a sudden lunge forward, and to prevent himself from falling, Mr. Allen seized a standard, but it snapped and he fell with crushing force to the ground, alighting upon his face and shoulder, tearing his face in a shocking manner and bruising and spraining his shoulder.

When he reached the house his clothing was saturated with blood, and when Dr. Wilson of Jeffersonville arrived, Mr. Allen had grown weak from loss of blood and the shock of the injuries. His wounds were dressed, and it is believed that his face will be badly scarred when the wounds heal, owing to their severity.

It was believed that he had also suffered internal injuries, owing to blood flowing from his lungs, but his physician states that he will recover.

A Time for Cautious Work

Not a few people are making pessimistic prophecies as the result of the present strong trend of legislative bodies to meet the insistent demand of the people for more direct power in the conduct of the government.

While not in the least minimizing the gravity of the present current of legislative enactment, to say nothing of legislative proposals, it must be apparent to every thinking man that at root of the great majority of the predictions of disaster, is a conception of government contrary to the fundamental idea upon which this government was founded.

In a government like ours all power, of course, is acknowledged to be with the people. The government is not a thing apart from over and above, out of reach of—the people. It is of their own creation and of necessity then cannot be superior to its creator.

The national and state governments, however, are representative governments and the power of these representative governments has been from time to time abridged and revoked. In the more than a century and a quarter which has passed by since the national government was founded, the delegated power has been brought much closer to the real source of power and the check has been made more available.

Inch by inch the people as their moral and intellectual standard has risen have delegated less of their powers of government and exercised it themselves more directly.

Care must yet be exercised, however, to guard against the dangers of mob rule.

The most popular stock in trade of the demagogue and the agitator is that more power be given to the people. Legislative bodies do not grant power to the people—they may make the power which the people have more available—more easily handled within the form of government, but that's all.

The fear that the present trend of legislative bodies may lodge too much power in the people is groundless—that it may however abridge too much the right of the representatives and subject them to the caprice of public opinion not yet to be entirely depended upon in grave crises is another question and a question too, about which men may differ widely.

In a mistaken conception of the real public demand—in a rush to give to the people really more than they are demanding, hoping thereby to satisfy the demands of the political demagogue or the impractical idealist, some of the legislative bodies now confronted by proposals of the most radical type may well pause and consider.

When law makers and public officials act upon a determination to grant every demand which is labelled more power to the people disregarding the ultimate effect, they have entered upon a course which, history tells us, inevitably brings disaster upon them and upon their constituents.

The reward of public officials comes after all in the real merit of their work and not in furthering impractical ideas which though designated as measures to increase the power of the people cannot fail to bring disaster.

Even though selfish politicians, anxious to further their own popularity, yellow newspapers and magazines do raise a hue and cry in favor of that which the level-headed legislator knows to be harmful, it is his duty to stand firm and reject all such proposals regardless of the storm of disapproval that may rage about him. Time will bring his vindication just as time will bring his censure if he yields.

The fact that nearly seven hundred bills have been introduced in the Ohio legislature is proof positive that dangerous influences are at work under a disguise which may prove effective.

The grist which the big mill at the State's capital grinds out of the grain poured into the hopper will either prove it to be a good machine or one which should be discarded for all time without another trial. What is true of Ohio in this respect is true of many other states of the union and is also true of the National Congress which will, in all likelihood be convened in extra session shortly after March 4th, next.

There is great reform work to do—failing to do it the men who have been chosen under promise to do it will fail. But the work to be done must not be overdone or failure will come just as certainly.

Working Girl Wrongly Trained

By Miss ALICE BARROWS of the Vocational Guidance Survey of New York

WOMEN are employed in all but three of the occupations open to men. Yet we persist in ignoring this fact when training women for their life work, and we talk about "WOMEN'S OCCUPATIONS."

Year after year trade schools for women are opened, and they teach COOKING, SEWING AND MILLINERY. One is not a trade, and two are already seriously overcrowded. The result is that by turning out classes of girls fitted to enter these two trades they only LOWER WAGES, SHORTEN THE SEASONS AND INCREASE THE HOURS.

THESE ARE NOT IDEAL RESULTS OF TRADE TRAINING. REAL VOCATIONAL TRAINING MUST STUDY NOT ONLY THE CONDITIONS OF THE INDUSTRIAL WORLD AT THE MOMENT, BUT THE TEMPERAMENT OF EACH INDIVIDUAL TO BE TRAINED INSTEAD OF POURING THEM IN BULK INTO THE TRADITIONAL OCCUPATIONS FOR WOMEN.

Poetry For Today

FOR SALE.

A lot of prejudices which
Have ceased to be of use to me;
A stock of envy of the rich,
Some slightly shop-worn jealousy;
A large supply of gloom that I
Shall have no use for them today;
I offer bargains; who will buy?
Come, bid; and take the stuff away.

A lot of wishes I've outgrown,
A stock of foolish old beliefs;
Some pride I once was glad to own,
A bulky line of misfit griefs;
A large assortment of ill-will,
A joblot of bad faith and doubt;
Harsh words that have their stingers still—
Come on, come on! I'm closing out.

I need more room for kindness,
For hopeful courage and good cheer
For sale, the hatred I possess,
The dark suspicions and the fear.
A large supply of frailties I
Shall have no use for from today.
I offer bargains—who will buy?
Come, bid, and take the stuff away.

MUSTARD'S QUICK RELIEF WITHOUT THE BLISTER

You remember the good old-fashioned mustard plaster.

Your mother and your grandmother used to apply it whenever you had a cold, an ache or a pain.

It burned like sixty, but it surely did the work.

Here is the old family remedy, greatly improved by science and put up in Twentieth Century form.

The quick and blessed relief without the blister of the mustard, or the bother and messiness of the plaster.

MUSTEROLE is a clean, white ointment, made with the oil of mustard. For MUSTEROLE, the oil of the highest grade of mustard is refined until it is as pure as human skill can make it.

You simply rub it on the spot where the pain is—rub it on briskly—and the pain is gone.

Not a blister is left even on tender skin! Instead it has a delicious, comforting effect.

You don't have to spread MUSTEROLE on a cloth. Just apply it with the finger tips.

You don't have to bind on a cloth. MUSTEROLE is so penetrating that it goes right through the pores at once.

And there is nothing like MUSTEROLE for Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Tonsillitis, Croup, Stiff Neck, Asthma, Neuralgia, Headache, Congestion, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Pains and Aches of the Back or Joints, Sprains, Sore Muscles, Bruises, Chills, Blains, Frosted Feet, Colds of the Chest (it prevents Pneumonia).

At your druggist's—in 25c and 50c jars, and a special large hospital size for $2.50.

Accept no substitute. If your druggist cannot supply you, send 25c or 50c to the Musterole Company, Cleveland, Ohio, and we will mail you a jar, postage prepaid.

PLENTY OF PRAISE BESTOWED ON IMPERIAL STAFF I. O. O. F.

Official Newspaper of Odd Fellowship Boosts Local Staff and Pronounces Work Best Ever Witnessed—Praises the Team as a Whole and Lauds Leading Characters for Splendid Work.

In the last issue of "The Bundle of Sticks," the official newspaper of the Odd Fellows, published at Columbus, appears two articles boosting the Imperial Degree Staff of this city for the splendid work in Columbus recently. The first article is written by Mr. Ed O. Peets, one of the best known and most popular members of the order in the state, and the other is an editorial written by the Grand Master of Ohio.

The articles follow:

CENTRAL OHIO RESPONDS.

On the afternoon of McKinley's birthday, Odd Fellows from all parts of Ohio joined the Central portion gathering in Columbus to witness the First Degree given in amplified form by the brothers of Temple Lodge, of Washington C. H., in the great Memorial Auditorium.

In the evening I heard the band and saw the thousands of brothers marching, and I joined in; it was a tramp of inspiration; but scarcely a mile in length; I would like to have marched ten times as far. Indeed, had the Grand Master and Grand Secretary proposed it, I would have undertaken to march all around Ohio as did Israel of old around Jericho and expected the same result.

No. I don't know how many Ohio Odd Fellows were in the building when the degree work began, but I don't think there were more than 87,000. I might add the words "more or less" and let it go at that.

The First Degree as presented by Temple Lodge Degree Staff is a splendid creation, and was most brilliantly produced; one could not but marvel at the ease and precision with which all the intricate floor maneuvers were developed and worked out, each part fitting into the whole with the accuracy of the parts of a nicely adjusted mechanism.

Indeed, the entire ambitious creation was so exceedingly brilliant in all its setting and color effects and movement, that it must have intensified the demand as well as the enthusiasm in the dramatic force of the charges of the various characters taking part.

It was, indeed, a dainty touch of sentiment that gave us as an explanatory prelude the home of Jesse and his devoted family and their simple welcome to Samuel the Prophet, and later the tearful parting with David summoned to stand before Saul.

"Silver Threads Among the Gold" and "Home Sweet Home," from the quartet, sung with infinite tenderness and admirable piano accompaniment, prepared our hearts for the great lesson of the degree by "invoking the tenderest of human sympathy."

Concerning the great central purpose of the degree—to illustrate the nobility of genuine friendship by presenting the ideal friendship of Jonathan and David and its splendid triumph over envy, that "malicious foe of virtue"—it is impossible to undertake a critical analysis without suggesting comparisons, and comparisons are always odious.

Considering the work of Saul, Jonathan, David and Jesse and messenger lad, etc., as the simple endeavor of brothers in Lodge to give emphasis to the Ritual's wholesome teachings of friendship, only praise, and the highest praise is its due, not alone for its excellence pre se, but more, yea, far more, because of the great love that inspired the brothers to think and study and plan and with infinite patience work out together a noble purpose—to teach the divine character of unselfish friendship to brothers crossing the threshold of Odd Fellowship.

And this is the only viewpoint from which to judge. None of this degree work must be undertaken by us as actors, but as earnest-hearted brothers.

The spirit of loving brotherly emulation in all this degree work is glorious and I am not disposed yet to set any limits to it, but will continue to applaud every earnest effort made like this one in the right spirit and take off my hat to each occurring eclipse of all previous achievements.

But, and I would say it with the greatest possible earnestness, should the unhappy spirit of an over-intense ambition to excel, become embittered with jealousy or envy, we shall certainly suffer a blighting reaction, the unfortunate results of which will long continue.

So let us never employ that spirit of criticism that suggests sharp rivalry. Regard our Lodge as our family and our Order as our greater family where all are brothers and all are beloved. If the methods of one Staff of brothers appears to us more than the methods of another Staff, it but illustrates the myriad variety in our human natures, and we will but regard the more and cling the more to the broad basic ground of the great loving purpose that is behind all the great Order's endeavor.

And the final scene of the degree—the tableau showing the Guards standing in the form of the cross and the rest of the Staff grouped in the background as a crescent, while in the foreground Jonathan and David knelt reverently with hands in loving clasp—was indeed a beautiful epitome of the great lesson of the story.

To me it seemed to send my thoughts forward with a leap to the spirit of love, the Christ spirit, that challenged the attention of the first century as the "Scion of Judah of the root of David." And again, it all seemed like a leading kindly light that illuminated all virtue and came from the great heart of the Man of Galilee.

"The loving elder Brother of us all."

At the late hour that saw the conclusion of the degree work, it was but natural that there should be a rush for trains and that practically only the brothers from Columbus could remain for the Good of the Order.

The Grand Secretary as the presiding officer was the right man in the right place, and in turn he called upon Grand Master Goodrich, Deputy Grand Master Kuntz, Grand Representative Houck, Grand Patriarch-elect Pugh and Past Grand Beem, followed by two brothers—clergymen who had just received the degree—all of whom responded with clever addresses.

Then followed the unexpected. Bro.

Towns, the able President of the General Committee, stepped forward and turning to Bro. Chaffin, the Captain of the Temple Staff, happily characterized his brilliant work and presented him a beautiful little memento of the occasion, as indicating the appreciation of the Columbus brothers.

Bro. Chaffin's response was admirable indeed, and indicative of the fine spirit that leads Temple Degree Staff to its splendid achievements.

And then it was all over.

Modifying the laconic message of Caesar to the Roman Senate, let the Sycamore simply say:

I came,
I saw—
I was conquered.

Yea—my whole heart was captured.

ED. O. PEETS.

The editorial says in part:

The work was exemplified on a large elevated stage, and it afforded an opportunity for every one of this vast audience to see every part of the work.

LINA CAVALIERI

At Memorial Hall, Columbus, Friday, Night, February 28.

Lina Cavallieri, the operatic singer world famed as a beauty, has decided to desert the grand opera field for the concert platform. It is the intimate relation which the concert artist has with the audience that appeals to the Italian prima donna and accordingly she has arranged a three months tour in Mexico, Canada and the United States one concert of which itinerary will be given at Memorial Hall, Columbus, on Friday night, Feb. 28. This trans-continental tour of Cavallieri is under the management of Messrs. Haensel & Jones.

This is the thirteenth year for Cavallieri in Grand Opera and there is just a chance that she may have a grain of superstition about the supposedly unlucky number—thirteen. At any event her debut in grand opera occurred in Lisbon in Tosca in 1900. Her first appearance in America was on December 5, 1906 in Fedora with Caruso at the Metropolitan Opera House, New York. The following season she attracted no little attention when she appeared at the Metropolitan in Francesco Cilea's "Adriana Lecouvreur" she playing the title part with Caruso as "Maurizio." It will also be recalled that she was the original "Thais" as she was selected by Massenet to create the part at the Paris Opera House.

Lucien Muratore, tenor, of the Paris Opera House, will accompany Cavallieri on her concert tour and the programs will for the most part be scenes from grand opera in costume. Edouard Tournon, also from the Paris Opera House, composer of "Clair de Lune," will conduct the orchestra for the Cavallieri tour. It is three years since Cavallieri

We have had the pleasure of witnessing the work of this Degree Staff a number of times, but on this occasion it was rendered the best we have ever seen it done. A number of unique features have been added, which makes the work more impressive to the candidates, and is in keeping with the beautiful story exemplified.

Bro. Chaffin and his three principal supporters, Bros. McLean, Springer and Wetzel, were at their best, and the manner in which they handled their several parts made a deep impression on the audience. We have never witnessed a more perfect impersonation of these characters. In fact, every member of this Degree Staff deserves special mention, for the beautiful and magnificent rendition of this degree. The Guards marched like well drilled soldiers; the Unwritten Work was perfect, and the diction faultless; the paraphernalia the most beautiful we have ever seen; the Guards' suits representing the colors of the several degrees of the Order.

appeared in this country and it was with great hesitancy that she consented to come although many theatrical and concert managers made her most excellent offers. Cavallieri explained that she feared the music loving public might misunderstand her coming and think that she was trying to turn the newspaper publicity of her recent divorce from Robert W. Chanler, the millionaire sheriff of Dutchess County, New York, into dollars and cents.

Seats 50c to $2.00. Sale at Goldsmith's, 69 S. High, Columbus, Ohio.

HARTMAN THEATER.

"The Daughter of Heaven."

With Viola Allen in the title role, "The Daughter of Heaven," the great Chinese dramatic spectacle from the Century theater, New York, will be the attraction at the Hartman theater, Columbus, the entire week beginning March 3, with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

Nothing to equal the gorgeous beauty of this historical romance of old China, has ever been witnessed on the American stage. The dignity of the play, the high story of sentiment, the tremendous battle scene and the richness of the staging and costuming all unite in placing "The Daughter of Heaven" on a plane of its own.

There are more than 300 people in the east and company of the play, including many native Chinese, Koreans and Japanese. Miss Viola Allen plays the role of the empress and critics say that the popular actress is at her best.

Pierre Loti, one of the "Forty Immortals" of the French academy, and Judith Gautier are the joint authors of "The Daughter of Heaven." The scenes of the play are stage productions of actual photographs made for the purpose.

FRIEDMANN ARRIVES TODAY

Will Be Met at Pier by Brother and Banker Finlay.

New York, Feb. 25.—Dr. F. F. Friedmann of Berlin, who professes to have a serum that is a cure for tuberculosis, will land here today on the steamship Kronprinzin Ocella. He will be met at the pier by his brother and by Charles E. Finlay, the banker, who has been instrumental in getting the Berlin doctor to come to his country. The three will have an immediate conference and it is probable that they will go over plans for the testing of the cure. As far as is known, no local medical men will be present.

Mr. Finlay says he has made no arrangements here or with Dr. Friedmann for the examination into the properties of the new discovery.

FUEL SHORTAGE A PUZZLE.

Either Food Evaporated or Explorer's Caches Were Tapped by Return Parties, According to Authorities—Lieutenant Evans and Survivors on Terra Nova Refuse to Discuss Details.

Littleton, New Zealand.—If any one of the supporting expeditions was in any way responsible for the death of Captain Scott and his four companions within eleven miles of safety it will not be known until the personal diaries and records of the dead men are placed in the hands of their families. The reticence of Commander E. R. Evans and the other survivors aboard the Terra Nova has excited the suspicion of those who visited the relief ship that there was some sordid story back of what at first seemed a tale heroic in every detail.

Commander Evans said that no records found with the dead would be made public until they were given over to the families of the men. Captain Scott in his last message to the public vaguely hinted that his return to shelter was impeded by shortage of fuel, for which, he said, he "could not account." If the diaries of the other dead men make similar comment their families, it was hinted, might demand an investigation through any of three channels—the admiralty, the Royal Geographical society and the British Antarctic society.

At frequent intervals on his way south Captain Scott left caches of blubber and other supplies to sustain him on the return trip.

On two occasions on his final dash the commander sent back return parties. The last of these, from latitude 87 degrees 30 minutes, consisted of three men, under the leadership of Commander E. R. Evans. In his last message Captain Scott commented pathetically on the shortage of fuel and food in his supply depots.

Experts on polar exploration agreed that there was one of two possible explanations—Captain Scott's depots were tapped by the return parties or the blubber evaporated.

The correspondent of the Daily Chronicle at Christchurch, New Zealand, sent a dispatch telling of his unsuccessful efforts to get the leaders of the expedition to talk on these subjects.

Lieutenant Evans, he said, as well as other officers of the party, was communicative until fuel and Petty Officer Evans were touched on. Then, he said, all the officers became suddenly reticent.

Lieutenant Evans said the fuel shortage was hardly of sufficient importance for a newspaper to deal with and added, "I think you had better not touch upon it."

The officers say the bodies of Scott, Wilson and Bowers could have been brought home, but all agreed that it would be more fit to leave them where they had worked and died. The motor sledges proved a failure and frequently broke down. When the last one collapsed everybody was pleased.

The diaries of all the members of the Scott party who lost their lives are intact and will be sent to their relatives. Lieutenant Evans and others will compile Captain Scott's book on his discovery of the pole and the experiences of his party.

J. Pierpont Morgan, Snapped On Visit to Monte Carlo

THE news of the sudden illness of J. Pierpont Morgan, foremost financial figure of the country, while in Carlo, Egypt, was so distorted when it first reached this country that his death was reported. The truth was quickly known, however, when it was announced that Mr. Morgan was suffering from indigestion and was in no danger. His son-in-law, Herbert L. Satterlee, however, thought it advisable to sail at once for Egypt to be at the financier's side. This picture of the banker was taken at Monte Carlo when Mr. Morgan stopped off at the Riviera on his way to the land of the Pharaohs. He is on the left talking to a friend.

Heavy Strain To Engineers

In the March American Magazine, Albert W. Atwood writes a most interesting article entitled "Why Railroad Wrecks Increase." The following is an extract showing the engine drivers' relation to the problem.

"Dean R. Wood, who takes the Twentieth Century Limited from Syracuse to Albany, was recently asked at a public hearing what his running-time was between the two points. He replied:

"Two hours and forty-two minutes. That's 148 miles in 162 minutes. We are allowed to make up twelve minutes for lost time, which we might drop. We can only go through Syracuse at eight miles an hour, and there are nine other slow-downs, so that we have to run about seventy to seventy-five miles an hour to get in on time. In 148 miles we meet 151 stop-signals, which I must locate in all kinds of weather, and if any of them are out of order I report the number of the signal when we get in."

"Imagine the dangers and responsibilities which this man meets in fair or foul weather, in snow, in rain, in blizzards, in fogs, throughout the year. His vision must be geared for starlight, for moonlight, or for black darkness or driving storm, to locate, as he dashes by, those 151 signals in 148 miles, the loss of any one of which might mean death in the ditch. A leading railroad authority has been forced to admit that it is doubtful if any human being can properly manage an engine and locate a signal every thirty-five seconds. How can the human element be depended upon when it is being strained to the limit? There are very few accidents on branch lines, although these are usually innocent of block-signals and other safety-appliances. Is this because the human element is better on branch lines? Quite the contrary. The best men run on the fliers. But on the branch lines average speeds of twenty and twenty-five miles an hour are the rule, whereas on main lines they average from forty to forty-five miles or even more."

The receipts for passenger service of the Swiss federal railways for 1911 were a trifle over $15,000,000.

Returns From The Southland

Mrs. Minnie Goldsberry returned from Birmingham, Alabama, Sunday, bringing with her Mr. Earl Goldsberry, her son, who has been seriously ill for some weeks, and who is now much improved.

For the present they are staying with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Burgett and at the present rate of improvement Mr. Goldsberry will be able to return to his work sometime in the spring or summer.

Mr. Goldsberry has been in Alabama for nearly a score of years, and has occupied the position of purchasing agent for the Southern railroad, and his work was such that it occupied so much of his time and kept him so closely confined to it, that he suffered a nervous collapse, from which he is now recovering.

Resolutions Adopted At Recent Institute

Resolutions unanimously adopted by the Bloomingburg Farmers' Institute February 14th, 1913:

Resolved, That we tender a vote of thanks to the trustees of the Presbyterian church for the use of their church for purposes of holding our Institute, and the choir for their excellent music.

Resolved, That we tender a vote of thanks to Messrs. C. R. Wagner, Horatio Markley and E. C. Sargent, instructors, for the able, earnest and instructive lectures delivered before this Institute.

Resolved, That we hold an Institute in Bloomingburg, O., this coming Institute season under state aid.

Resolved, That we are highly in favor of the Ohio Boys' Acre of Corn Contest as promulgated by A. P. Sandles and others.

That, Whereas we view with alarm the rapid spread of crime, vice and insanity among our people, and being assured that by proper precautions in wise legislation, therefore be it

Resolved, That we hereby urge upon our Legislators a careful consideration of a measure for the sterilization of chronic criminal and insane persons. We do this in the interest of humanity and of the taxpayers of Ohio.

And, further, we pledge our support and influence for a measure wherein all persons applying for a marriage license must produce evidence sufficient to justify the issuance of same. Said evidence must substantiate the fact that both parties to the marriage contract are the possessors of physical, moral and mental ability to enter upon such contract.

That we believe that facts produced will not warrant the state in passing measures for the administering the tubercular test to all cattle in Ohio.

That, we believe a large amount of the loss arising from hog cholera and swine plague in Ohio is unnecessary and might be avoided, and, whereas the State Farm and buildings on same is sufficient to carry forward this work, we therefore ask our legislators to make sufficient appropriations that will enable this work to be carried to a definite conclusion.

That, Whereas all real estate is now on the tax duplicate at full cash value, therefore, we urge upon the present General Assembly the necessity of adding to same all possessions possessing value.

That we favor a commission to investigate the rural school and its advancement. Yet we also ask that the work be kept extremely practical and along economical lines.

Inasmuch as the rum traffic is a menace to our people and nation; inasmuch as it kills and wounds 10,000 times more than all wars combined, therefore be it

Resolved, That we favor all wise legislation leading to its overthrow, and especially recommend the distribution of all scientific temperance instruction as now simplified and adopted by all leading temperance organizations. We also commend the action of Congress in the passage of the "Webb Bill" which has for its object the prohibiting of the shipment of liquors into dry territory.

Mr. Henry Snyder Laid to Rest

A sorrowful concourse of relatives and friends of the Snyder family filled Grace church for the second time within two days on Monday afternoon, when all that was mortal of Mr. Henry Snyder was laid to rest.

Rev. F. E. Ross officiated as he had in the wife's burial service on Saturday, conducting services of much beauty and tenderness.

The music was a special feature of the services and very beautiful. There were two solos, Miss Edith Gardner singing, "Eternity", and Miss Emma Smith, of Columbus, "The Home Land". At the close of the service Miss Gardner and Miss Smith sang, "Good Night", in affecting farewell. Miss Mabel Calvert was the accompanist.

From far and near relatives and friends had assembled for the funeral and many followed the flower heaped bier to the Washington cemetery, where the husband was buried side by side with the wife whom he had so soon joined in the eternal realms.

The pall-bearers were nephews, Major Briggs, of Frankfort; Mr. Will Briggs, Mr. Os Slagle, New Holland; Messrs. Wert, Luther and Chas. Briggs.

Relatives who were here to attend the funerals of Mr. and Mrs. Snyder were Mrs. Dudley Briggs, Mrs. Elias Hutton, Mr. and Mrs. George Gordon, Mrs. John Stitt, Miss Daisy Ott, Miss Irene Paul, Mrs. John Ott, Mrs. Grace Heiser, of Frankfort; Mrs. Richard Vincent, of Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Burnett, daughter, Helen, Mrs. Margaret Snyder, Miss Marie Briggs, Dayton; Dr. and Mrs. Chas. Swope, Miss Bernice and Chas. Widely Known Horseman Dead

Washington and Fayette county citizens who knew Robert J. Wilson, the widely known horseman and prominent citizen of Springfield, O., deeply regret to learn of his death in Denver, Colo., at nine o'clock Sunday morning. His death occurred suddenly following a long illness.

More than one year ago Mr. Wilson and his family moved to the west in order that Mr. Wilson's health might improve under the more favorable conditions, and reports from him indicated that he was recovering rapidly.

Mr. Wilson was well known here, where he has been starter at a number of race meets, and horsemen in general spoke of him as one of the fairest starters that ever shouted "go!"

Ever since his boyhood days he had been a lover of horses, and had attained considerable fame as a horseman. He was in line for appointment as official starter of the Grand Circuit races.

He made a trip west in 1908, recovering his health to a great extent, but since his return to this climate he had been declining until he again left on his final trip.

Muzzle Your Dogs

Dogs caught at large without a muzzle on will be killed by the police.

Tenant House Burns to Ground

A small tenant house on the Jonas Sessler farm near Luttrell burned to the ground Monday afternoon about 3 o'clock, while the tenant, John Denner, was moving to Edgfield.

Denner had just moved one load and while he was absent the house caught fire in some way and was soon destroyed, entailing a total loss of some $500.

Denner lost part of his household goods. The late owner of the house, Jonas Sessler, died a few days ago.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Be sure you are right, then go ahead and ask your wife.

Absence of the long green has caused many a man to feel blue. Many a leap year girl after getting a look declined to leap.

On his wedding day a man should close the lid on his past life and nail it down.

During courtship kissing may be overdone, but after marriage it is usually underdone.

A young man should learn to paddle his own canoe, even if his father does own a motor boat.—Chicago News.

the anti-cigarette bill of this session. It is a strenuous one, making it a misdemeanor for a boy under 21 to be caught with a cigarette or the "makings." A fine of $200 or six months' imprisonment, or both, is the maximum penalty for selling or giving a cigarette.

Steps toward the establishment of a new extension division at Ohio State university were taken yesterday when Senator Lloyd offered a measure which authorizes the board of trustees to carry out extension plans. One of the principal features would be the offering of instruction through correspondence.

An appropriation of $6,000, to be paid to George H. Phelps of Findlay for legal services rendered as special counsel to the attorney general in the prosecution of suits against the Ohio subsidiary corporations of the Standard Oil company, is called for in a bill introduced by Senator Mooney. BLOODS CELEBRATE KILLING OF MADERO.

Paris, Feb. 25.—A party of young Mexican bloods gaily and cynically celebrated the assassination of Madero by drinking much champagne in a cabaret on the Monte Martre. One of them explained that Madero's death was justified. When Madero allowed General Porfirio Diaz to escape, he said, he committed a great mistake. When he captured General Felix Diaz after the abortive uprising at Vera Cruz, he showed gross cowardice in not shooting down this disturber like a dog.

Buckeye State Happenings

Inisinate Money Wasted.
Columbus, O., Feb. 25.—Back of a bill which will be introduced in the senate is the insinuation that the recent codification of the Ohio laws is practically valueless and that the sum of nearly $100,000 which the state has spent for the purpose has been as much as wasted. The bill repeals the codification sections of the statutes and stops the continuation of the codification work which is being done by former Governor James E. Campbell. It was presented by Senator Justus A. Moore of Jefferson county.

Columbus in Interstate League.
Columbus, O., Feb. 25.—Columbus is to have a place in the southern division of the Interstate league along with Zanesville, Wheeling and Steubenville. The northern section will be made up of Erie, Youngstown, Canton and Akron. The franchise awarded recently to parties of Johnstown, Pa., was transferred to Columbus and accepted by officials of the company holding American association rights to this territory.

Claim Rubber Strike Is Broken.
Akron, O., Feb. 25.—Statements issued by all the rubber manufacturers assert that the backbone of the rubber workers' strike is broken and it is the general belief that most of the strikers will gradually return to work, leaving an adjustment of wages to be effected later by the state arbitration board. It is said that nearly 1,000 rubber strikers have left the city since the strike began.

Charges Filed Against Kohler.
Cleveland, O., Feb. 25.—After a conference here between Mayor Newton D. Baker and Chief of Police Fred Kohler, the mayor announced that charges have been filed with him against Kohler and that he has given the chief an opportunity to report on the charges. The charges allege misconduct, but no announcement was made of the exact nature of the allegations.

Fraternity Disbands.
Ada, O., Feb. 25.—President Smith of Ohio Northern university has won his fight against Lambda Tau Delta fraternity chapter at the university. The 25 members of the fraternity, whose expulsion last week produced a petition which asked Dr. Smith's resignation, were reinstated in chapel, after they had promised to disband the fraternity.

Flowers Barred at Funerals.
Cincinnati, O., Feb. 25.—A novel way to decrease the high cost of dying was devised here by the board of managers of St. Xavier's church, one of the largest Catholic parishes in southern Ohio, when an announcement was made that in the future no funerals to which flowers are permitted to be sent will be allowed held in the church.

Skated Into an Air Hole.
Lima, O., Feb. 25.—A spirit of bravado cost Lloyd McClure, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy McClure, his life. Ignoring the warning of companions, the lad skated out to the center of McCullough lake, in North Lima, and plunged through an air hole. His body was taken from the lake two hours later.

BOOST JOHN KERN
FOR SENATE LEADER

Younger Members Against Candidacy of Senator Martin.

SENATOR KEARN.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The fight on Senator Martin of Virginia for re-election as caucus chairman, which carries with it the titular leadership of the senate and some patronage, was revived at a dinner given at the home of Senator Lea of Tennessee. Present at the dinner were a dozen of the more progressive and younger senators. It was decided then that Senator Martin should be defeated for the chairmanship if possible. It was determined to run Senator John W. Kern of Indiana for the chairmanship. With the announcement of Senator Kern's candidacy was a statement declaring his election was assured. The names of 27 senators were given as favorable to the candidacy of Mr. Kern. Some of Senator Martin's friends contend that at least seven of those named will not vote for Kern. Senator Martin did not discuss the contest, except to say he was in the race to the finish.

Would Attend Inauguration.
Columbus, O., Feb. 25.—Senator E. G. Lloyd of Franklin county is father of a joint resolution providing for the adjournment of the legislature from next Friday to the following Wednesday afternoon—the object being to permit the members of the legislature to attend the inauguration of President-elect Wilson. He will himself attend the inauguration, leaving Columbus for Washington next Sunday.

DRIVEN TO CANNIBALISM

Starving Trapper Kills Companion and Partially Eats Body.

Edmonton, Alberta, Feb. 25.—Driven insane by an eight-day period of starvation, Henri Le Claire, a French trapper, killed and partially ate the body of Len Lemieux, a guide of the Hudson Bay company, near Mile 83, British Columbia. Le Claire and Lemieux had not tasted a morsel of food for eight days. In a deserted shack, 75 miles from the nearest settlement, both men awaited for the other to go to sleep, for the killing of one meant food for the other. Lemieux was killed, being stabbed in the heart eight times. Le Claire has not been found.

WHITE SLAVE LAW
CONSTITUTIONAL

Federal Supreme Court Takes An Advanced Step.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The white slave law passed by congress July 25, 1910, was held to be constitutional in an opinion by Associate Justice McKeen in which all members of the supreme court acquiesced.

The decision marks the most advanced step yet taken by the supreme court in construing the powers of the federal government over interstate commerce. Lawyers see in it conclusive evidence that the supreme court will hold the constitutionality of other important legislation that has either been passed or is now pending in congress. This includes the legislation forbidding the transportation of liquor from wet into dry states and the legislation regulating transportation in interstate commerce of the products of factories and mines which do not observe an eight-hour law or conform to modern sanitary standards.

Wilson Favors Labor Bill.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 25.—President-elect Wilson, who has decided to call congress in extra session April 1, said today he had not yet concluded what subjects will be touched upon in his message to congress. The tariff, of course, will have major consideration. To Samuel Gompers, Mr. Wilson expressed his approval of two bills now pending in congress, one to extend the rights of citizenship to the Porto Ricans and the other providing for workingmen's compensation.

The M. B. H. Bible class of the Presbyterian Sunday school will have a sale of home cooking eatables and canned fruit on Saturday a. m., March 1 at Geo. C. Haynes' Furniture store.

Aimed At Labor Suits

Washington, Feb. 25.—The anti-trust suit against certain electrical unions in Chicago is of peculiar interest because an amendment to the sundry civil appropriation bill adopted by the house provides that no part of the anti-trust appropriation shall be used to prosecute workingmen's organizations. Several futile attempts have been made in congress during the last few years to except labor unions from the Sherman law.
